

Graphic Facilitation

Graphic facilitation is a visual communication method that uses images, symbols, and illustrations to convey information and ideas. It is a dynamic and interactive way of engaging with participants, whether it's a team of colleagues or a community of partners who bring different knowledge, skills, and experience to a meeting.

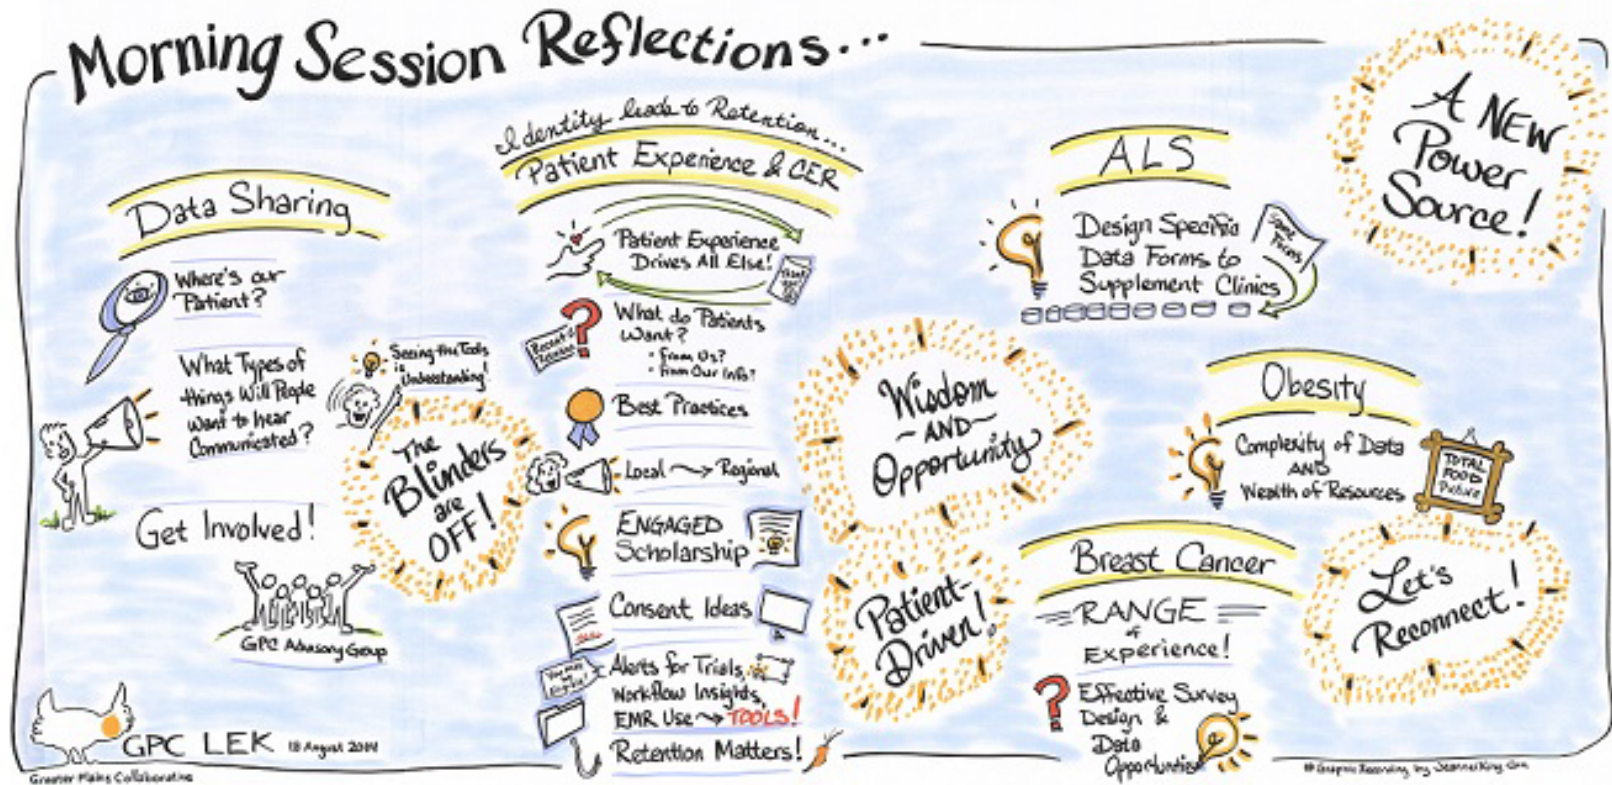

A graphic facilitator comes prepared with a clear understanding of the purpose and desired outcomes for the meeting. They are skilled at listening and synthesizing complex ideas and then creating concise visual images that represent what is said. They draw in real-time, and the graphic evolves during the meeting and can be altered to emphasize or clarify certain points. During a well-run graphic facilitation session, participants watch the graphic emerge, but they are not distracted by the activity of the graphic facilitator – they remain focused on the discussion.

Using graphics to capture the content makes it easier for everyone to understand. This method adds another layer of engagement using imaginative storytelling techniques, clever metaphors, and analogies so viewers connect with the content. It supports but does not replace traditional meeting minutes or audio recordings. Finally, effective graphic facilitation occurs when the drawings can be easily explained by the participants and if participants agree that the visuals accurately portray what was shared.

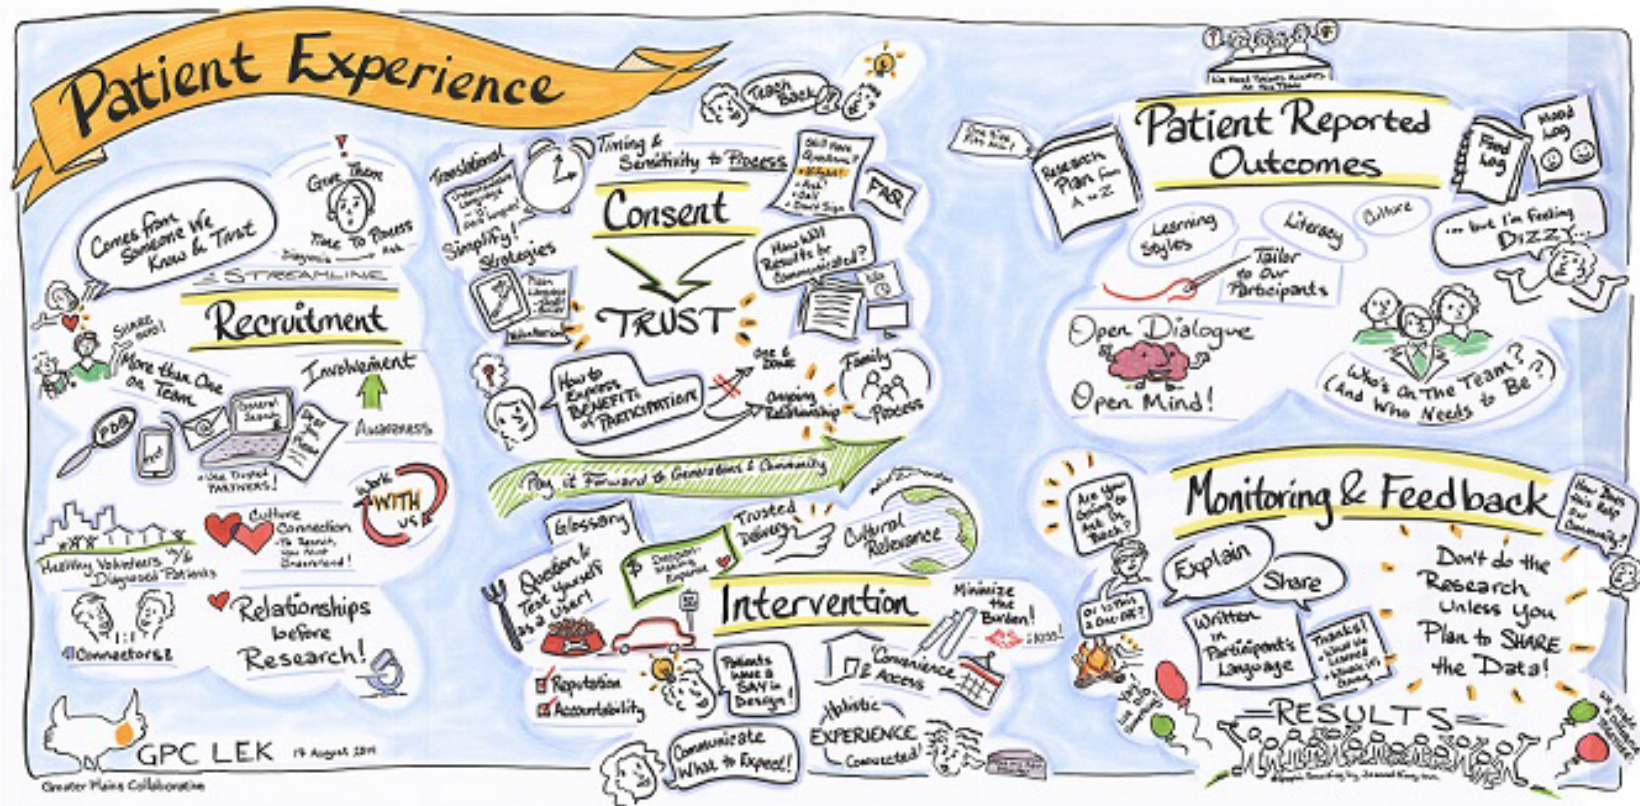

The following graphic images were created at the 2014 Learning Engagement Kickoff (LEK) for the Greater Plains Collaborative, which was held in Kansas City, MO on August 17th and 18th, 2014. They represent the collected thoughts of the main sessions, as well as providing insight into the work done in breakout sessions during the conference.

Make Research Friendly @ Inspired @ Looking Forward @ Big Appreciative @ Engaged @ Researchy @ Finally Being Heard!
 "Go ~~to the study~~ Dodgers!" @ "New Direction in Research" @ Hopeful
 Welcome @ Nervous @ Determined @ Concerned
Curious @ Elated @ Serendipitous @ Looking Forward
Excited @ Ready to LEARN @ Anticipation @ Interested
 Happy @ Grateful
Appreciation @ Observer @ BBQ @ Carpe Diem
 Impatient @ Open-Minded @ Listen @ Understand @ "Feel Like a Freshman"
 Relevance @ Useful @ Hope @ Fear @ Optimistic @ Silud!
 Attentive @ Delighted! @ Happy to Be Here! @ Collaboration @ Voice
 Super Excited @ Verklemt @ Proud @ Relax!

Opening Session

Morning Session

Patient Experience Breakout Session

All Cohorts Discussion: Survey Deployment

? Where's the MONEY?

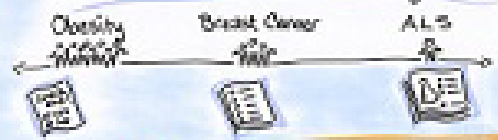

Set the Expectation

? What Do We Need to Demonstrate?

We all need to be in Sync

Breast Cancer Survey - Personal Identifiers? Try It!

Oct 2 - IRB Ready
Jan 2 - Survey

? What about Contracts?

Now it's Time to Huddle & Dig In!

? Should ALS find Another CDON to work with?

If you're ready to do the science, go for it!

Connected @ Clarity @ Direction @ Refining Vision @ Communication @ Market
 Very Well Organized @ Movement @ GPS @ Relevant Practical Double @ Community
 Finally being HERD! @ Relieved, More Confident! @ Awe @ Empowering
 Lots of To-Do's @ See Patient Centered @ Refreshing @ Energized @ Heard! @ Engagement
 Happy To Look Forward with Patients @ Common Language @ New Tricks @ Empowered
 Less Confused Better Informed @ Collaborative Next Steps @ Long Live The Peck @ Informed
Optimistic With the Future @ 'New Beginnings' @ Miracles! @ Appreciative
 Informing @ Community Embracing @ Better Informed Expectations @ Focus @ Challenges
 Square Two @ Greater Clarity, Obvious Challenges @ The @ Determination
 Curious @ Better Informed @ A Plan! @ Road Maps @ Confused @ Full Picture @ Renewed
 Rock Chalk Prairie Chicken! @ Interesting @ Eye Opening @ Connection @ Moving
Permission to be 'PCC' @ Thankful @ Momentum @ Optimistic @ On the Right Track
 'The Sun has Come OUT!' @ One Voice Joining @ Forging Relations

GPC LEK 11 August 2014

Closing Session